The SPF SIG project will target communities with high youth and young adult alcohol use and consequence rates as identified by relevant data. Selected communities will be guided through a streamlined SPF process and will implement environmental prevention strategies.

A group of 20-30 communities will be identified by the Governor’s Prevention Advisory Council’s SPF SIG Workgroup through a screening process that includes reviewing data on alcohol use and its consequences. Counties in which these communities reside will be contacted and a further interview process will gather information to determine appropriateness for inclusion in the SPF SIG project. During the informational webinar for CADPAAC on August 5, 2011, participants requested an opportunity to self-nominate their communities. The information from this self-nomination form will be added to the community selection screening process to determine the 20-30 potential project communities. Final selection of county grantees and project communities will be approved by the Governor’s Prevention Advisory Council and ADP.

By submitting a nomination for consideration, it is assumed that your county has an interest and commitment to the goals of the SPF SIG project, has identified youth alcohol use as a significant problem area in the county Strategic Prevention Plan, and has demonstrated experience and capacity in environmental prevention strategies and policy development.
