The Department of Health Care Services (DHCS) is working with the UCLA Center for Health Policy Research to understand opportunities for improvement and potential changes to the California Children's Services (CCS) program. These efforts focus on improving access to health care for children and youth with special health care needs (CYSHCN) and eliminating the fragmentation that exists in the current system. This webinar will discuss DHCS' plans to utilize a stakeholder process to inform decision-making and prioritization of CCS redesign efforts. If you wish to join the webinar on September 26th at 9:30am, please click on this link: https://connectpro72759986.adobeconnect.com/_a782517175/ccsrw/. Sound will be via your computer speakers and there is no separate conference call-in number.
