

SAVE THE DATE

ACHIEVING THE QUADRUPLE AIM IN PRIMARY CARE: CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES

PRESENTER:

J. NWANDO OLAYIWOLA, MD, MPH, FAAFP

AFTER THE WEBINAR, ATTENDEES WILL UNDERSTAND:

- Current challenges in primary care and professional burnout
- A framework for high performing primary care-10 Building Blocks
- Potential opportunities to achieve the quadruple aim

WHEN:

June 23, 2016 12 noon to 1 pm -
FREE CME, CEU AND CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION AVAILABLE

Registration:

Reserve your seat for the free webinar today:

<https://attendeegotowebinar.com/register/1485250368403989508>

WEBINAR SPONSORED BY:

California State Office of Rural Health (CalSORH)
California Statewide Area Health Education Center Program (AHEC)
California Public Health Training Center

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Dr Nwando Olayiwola is the Director of the Center for Excellence and Associate Professor for the Department of Family And Community Medicine at UCSF. Prior to this she was the Chief Medical Officer for the largest FQHC in Connecticut, Community Health Center (CHCI). She is an expert in health systems reform, practice transformation, health information technology and primary care redesign. Dr. Olayiwola received her BS in Human Nutrition/Pre Med at Ohio State University, her MD from Ohio State University/Cleveland Clinic Foundation. She did her residency training in family medicine at Columbia University/NY Presbyterian Hospital and received an MPH from Harvard School of Public Health.