Medicaid Prohibition on Payments to Institutions or Entities Located Outside of the United States

The State shall not make any check-free electronic funds transfer nor deliver any check or other instrument of payment for items or services provided under the State plan or under a waiver to any financial institution or entity located outside of the United States, including for lifesaving emergency services to a beneficiary travelling outside the U.S., even where such services may be withheld in the absence of payment.