

EWC Data Collection

EWC Provider Orientation

EWC Data Collection Importance

- » Funding for the EWC program is dependent on data reported by providers and is used to make program improvements and for quality assurance of individual clinics.
- » It is the key feature that makes EWC different from Medi-Cal: only EWC has encounter AND claim data on every recipient.

EWC Data Collection

Detecting Early Cancer (DETEC) Overview

- » DETEC is the web-based data collection system for DHCS
- » DETEC is used to:
 - Enter patient demographic data
 - Obtain a recipient ID number for billing
 - Enter screening results
 - Enter follow-up information for recipients with abnormal screenings including final diagnosis and treatment start date

DETEC Overview

» DETEC data is used for:

- Monitoring program caseload
- Querying reports by multiple criteria, such as NPI, CPT, and ICD-10 codes
- Quality assurance
- Program evaluation
- Processing payments for case management in cases with an immediate follow up cycle

EWC Data Collection Requirements

- » Maintain complete and accurate recipient data in DETEC
- » Submit all data for every screening event/cycle within 30 days of receipt regardless of results
- » Submit complete results and plan for each patient
- » Correct data errors and input missing data as requested by EWC
- » Signed, dated copies of the DETEC online recipient data forms must be filed in the patient's medical record as proof of data entry
